McMillin Realty Sold to Owners Of Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate

Scott McMillin has sold McMillin Realty to Vince and Nick Gotusso, who own a Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate franchise. The name of the new entity will be Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate McMillin Realty.

The company will continue to serve the South Bay, metro and coastal communities of San Diego.

“We see an enormous opportunity in uniting these two brands, both of which families across California have trusted for decades,” said Sherry Chris, president and CEO, Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate LLC. “The McMillin name is synonymous with quality and trust in the San Diego community, and the national scope of the Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate will provide new marketing resources for the benefit of McMillin’s affiliated real estate professionals and their clients.”

“We are thrilled to have identified the perfect platform for McMillin Realty to grow,” said Scott McMillin, chairman and previous owner of the brokerage firm. “Not only does Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate provide our team of Realtors with the exclusive opportunity to establish a fresh brand in the San Diego marketplace, but the network steps beyond that of a traditional franchise by emphasizing the lifestyle considerations that are often overlooked in real estate today.”

Better Homes and Gardens McMillin Realty will maintain its five current sales office locations; two in Bonita, two in Chula Vista and one in San Diego. With the support of Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate, the brokerage plans to expand its team of 130 affiliated real estate professionals into new markets.

McMillin Realty operates as an independent company within the McMillin family of companies.
